Present:

An Evening with

Angela Duckworth

True Grit

* Who succeeds in life? Is it simply those among us who are gifted and talented in our pursuits? Or, is aptitude merely “potential” if effort and interest are not sustained over time? In this lively presentation, renowned researcher Angela Duckworth, PhD, reviews her research on grit, the tendency to pursue challenging goals over years with perseverance and passion. Dr. Duckworth also reveals her thinking on how we can cultivate grit in ourselves and in others.
